GAMBLERS' CHANCES IN SMITH AND CAMPBELL ESTATES.

If Twelve Young Persons Die Soon Enough
Purchasers of Bankrupt's Interests
Can Get Some $500,000—Who May
Benefit Under Two Involved Wills

Speculators in mortality who bought up the interests of the bankrupt, John Campbell Smith, in the estates of Richard Augustine Smith and John Campbell at an auction of the bankrupt's assets on Thursday have the possible chance of realizing $522,416.67 on an investment of $5,000. The chance is exceedingly remote, because it is contingent upon twelve comparatively young beneficiaries dying before three that are advanced in age, upon a beneficiary of 65 dying before Smith and an unmarried woman of 43 dying without issue.

There is a somewhat better chance of the mortality gamblers realizing $24,361.89 on their investment of $2,500 in John Campbell Smith's interest in the John Campbell estate, since the life of Mary Jacqueline Smith, who is 65 years old, and the death of Martha H. Campbell, 43, is all that stands between the speculators, presumably, and the money.

For their investment of $3,100 in Smith's interest in the total of the Richard Augustine Smith estate the speculators took a chance as long, almost, as their possibility of realizing the total of both estates, since the twelve stand in the way. The chances of smaller profit are much better, since the will of Richard Augustine Smith provided that John Campbell Smith should receive the share of any one of fourteen presumptive beneficiaries should that one die before three direct beneficiaries, all of whom were well advanced in years.

The following table will give an idea of the possibilities of the speculation. In the event that any one of the persons named below should die before his or her mother, Letitia C. Sands, who is 70 years of age, those who purchased Smith's interests will benefit as follows:

Letitia Lee Delaford, 33, $24,361.89
Edith Rineclander, 30, $1,916.50
Edith N. Sands, 28, $1,916.50

If all three should die before Letitia C. Sands, the speculators would receive, it is supposed, $104,750.40. In the event that any of the following persons should die before his or her mother, Elizabeth Hildeburn Janeway, who is 60 years old and insane, the speculators would get:

Sarah P. Dupigne, 30, $104,750.40
Gladys Smith, 22, $104,750.40

If both should die before their mother the speculators would receive $209,500.80.

In the event that any one of the following persons should die before his or her mother, Elizabeth Hildeburn Janeway, who is 60 years old and insane, the speculators would get:

Samuel W. Gumbes, 30, $22,650.14
John H. Gumbes, 28, $22,650.14
Mary S. Barker, 24, $22,650.14
Frances S. D. Barker, 22, $22,650.14
John L. Janeway, 21, $22,650.14
Augustine Smith, 19, $22,650.14
Edith S. Janeway, 16, $22,650.14

If all should die before their mother the speculators would get $198,550.98.

All these sums are payable whether or not Smith survives the other lives. If all these presumptive beneficiaries of the Richard Augustine Smith estate should die before the three direct beneficiaries the speculators would realize $408,164.74.

The will of John Campbell provided that if Mary Jacqueline Smith should die before John Campbell Smith, her son, he should receive $21,861.89. If Martha H. Campbell, who is 43 and unmarried, dies without issue the bankrupt speculators would receive in addition $2,500.

If the court holds that the fund of $45,013.76, left to Mary S. Barker by Richard Augustine Smith, shall go to the residue of the estate, and be provided in the case of other beneficiaries, the speculators would receive in addition $22,656.58 upon the death of Mary S. Barker.

If the court holds that there was intestacy as to the fund of $45,013.76 left by Richard Augustine Smith for the benefit of Martha H. Campbell and Mary Jacqueline Smith, who died without issue, the speculators would receive in addition $1,913 instead of $2,500.80 on the death of Mary S. Barker.

It is believed, but not guaranteed, that all of the interests under both the Richard Augustine Smith will and the John Campbell will passed to Francis M. Applegate, as trustee in bankruptcy, upon the adjudication of John Campbell Smith as a bankrupt, May 8, 1904. If it should be held that these reversionary estates do not figure in the bankrupt's assets the speculators would get nothing.

JAPANESE COLONY IN TEXAS.

To Start With 40,000 Acres of Grazing Land—The Promise to Invest $400,000.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Fred D. Fisher, United States Consul at Tamsui, Formosa, has sent the State Department several clippings from Japanese newspapers in which the plans of Kikunaru Gada, a Japanese, for the establishment of a big Japanese agricultural colony in Texas are outlined. Mr. Gada is referred to as a man of considerable means, being the auditor of the Taiwan Bank, and having extensive commercial interests in Japan and Formosa. He has lived in Formosa since 1890. Consul Fisher says that if Mr. Gada's undertaking is carried to completion no doubt it will cause a great increase of Japanese emigration to the United States. If Mr. Gada's original intentions were carried out the plan must be well under way now.

In an interview in the Taiwan Nichi Nichi Shimpo, Mr. Gada says that he is going to start with 40,000 acres of grazing land in Texas. He says that in agriculture only can the Japanese succeed in America. Throughout his interview Mr. Gada expresses the greatest confidence of being successful in his venture. He has already an option on the land and has been in California a day and a half and San Francisco four days. He says that he will invest about $350,000 or $400,000 the first year. He estimates that a million dollars profit can be realized in four years.

An Incident in Mr. Wuensch's Life.
August Wuensch, a delicatessen store-keeper at 278 Central avenue, Jersey City, went into his stable on Thursday to watch some carpenters at work. A carpenter's helper picked up a rifle and playfully pointed it at him. Wuensch dodged as the weapon accidentally went off. The ball grazed his cheek and plowed a hole in his ear. The young man said he didn't mean to do it and Mr. Wuensch accepted his apology.

ABRAHAM AND STRAUS

Store Opens at 8:30. Closed Tuesday—Decoration Day.

Announcement Extraordinary.

Sale of Vantine's Entire Stock of Mission Furniture
At about 60c. on the Dollar.

On Thursday we will sell at hitherto unheard of prices the magnificent collection of "Craftsman" Mission Furniture now in Vantine's new store on Fifth avenue. It is an event ranking in importance with the most celebrated of our great sales.

The name of Vantine is synonymous with the highest excellence in Art Furnishings. Only a few weeks ago the Vantine firm decided to open a store on Fifth avenue to be devoted to the sale of Mission Furniture, and characteristically purchased only the best assortment of the newest types.

Almost immediately, however, it was conceived that such a departure was not in line with the well known exclusive principle of the Vantine business, and it was decided to abandon the adventure at once. Just as naturally they turned toward Abraham and Straus for quick distribution of the entire stock at great sacrifice. Their offer was immediately accepted.

On Wednesday next we will announce in detail the sale of this great collection of Craftsman Mission Furniture at PRICES ACTUALLY LESS THAN THOSE OF THE MAKER HIMSELF TO THE TRADE.

The high artistic character of the Furniture, its peculiar adaptability to Summer use, the splendidly complete assortment and marvelous prices combine to make this a most extraordinary occasion.

Details announced in Wednesday's papers. Sale Thursday at 8:30 A. M.

Women's Silk Shirtwaist Suits

$15 to $18 Usually : Now $10.25.

BECAUSE THE MAKER WAS in a hurry to get off to Europe and wanted to sell his silk on hand first we have a hundred and fifty taffeta silk shirtwaist suits at a third to nearly half less than the prices for which you will find just such suits in the best stores to-morrow.

Plain and fancy effects in blouse and shirtwaist styles and all as finely made as though they were to sell at full prices. Skirts are plaited and gored. None sent C. O. D. or on approval.

Second Floor, Front.

25c. Mercerized Batiste, 15c. White, 38 inches wide.

FIVE THOUSAND YARDS ready to-morrow—and lots of women will remember how remarkable the stuff was last week and come in for it first thing to-morrow. A bit of pure good luck to get this little lot.

Just right for Anniversary and Commencement dresses; very fine and sheer.

$1 Rough Pongee Silks, 49c The Greatest Offer of the Season.

THE SMARTEST OF ALL, the new silk Suitings. The one that sells fastest at regular prices. The silk is 28 inches wide and very lustrous and strong. A wide assortment of the best colors—white, ivory, cream, black, eel, champagne, pearl, Alice blue, reseda, tan, brown, leather, marine, navy, royal, olive and the natural Shantung shade. Half price to-morrow at 49c a yard.

Men's $15, $18 and $20 Suits, $12.50.

A Holiday Offering from the Store for Men.

TWO THINGS ESPECIALLY to be noted about this offering. First—That the Suits are out of our regular stock; made expressly for us with all the good tailoring and snap and style that have put Loeser Clothing for men in a class alone.

Second—That we never mark prices up at the season's beginning in order to mark them down at the end. The original prices of these Suits were our fair prices, which are $3 to $5 less than Suits of equal merit cost outside this Store. A hundred and twenty-seven Black Suits are included—and more than half of them are $18 values. Single and double breasted sack models of worsteds, twills and chevrons, in the newest gray and brown mixtures. All sizes for regular, stout and slim men. TWELVE DOLLARS AND A HALF A SUIT.

Main Floor, Elm Place Entrance. None sent C. O. D.

A Stirring Sale of Summer Laces.

IT IS ALWAYS POSSIBLE to get Laces to sell under the usual prices, if you don't care what sort of Laces you get. But to get the Laces most in favor; to get such Laces, for instance, as the prettiest of German and French Valenciennes, and sell them for less than half price, is a different proposition.

It is a Sale of Summer Laces of the MOST WANTED SORTS which we announce to-day; a Sale which could hardly occur outside the Loeser Store.

10c. to $2.40 Laces at 5c. to 69c.
10c. to 49c. Laces at 5c. to 12 1/2c.
